Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Modern Romanism Illustrated in Articles Reprinted From the Wesleyan Methodist Magazine: Viz;, A Review of Lord Bute s Translation of the Reformed Roman Breviary; A Missal provides forms for the celebration of the Mass, parts of which are invariably the same, while other parts change daily. The Ritual is for the use of the Clergy in the administration of other sacraments. The Pontifical contains such offices as only Bishops or Popes may use. Gradual, Antiphonal, and Processional will be naturally interpreted of the musical and other adjuncts of solemn worship which the Church uses so freely, and often with so much effect. But the Breviary differs from all these. It is not designed for any particular, sacrament or ceremony, nor for any particular order of the clergy, and not necessarily for public congregational use at all. But it is a book of devotion and instruction for the daily use of all the clergy. The regulations concerning the use of it are both strict and binding. Whoever enjoys any ecclesiastical revenue, all monks and nuns in...
