This resolution, which the Brooklyn organization hopes will constitute the first step toward securing greatly needed relief from the existing shortage of numerous drugs and medicines, was suggested by Dr. Otto Raubenheimer but was introduced by Charles F. Heimerzheim, who read a letter from Dr. Raubenheimer on this subject and then proposed the adoption of a resolution embodying his recommendation and the sending of a copy of same to Washington. Dr. Raubenheimer was unable to attend the meeting, but he pointed out in his letter that several of the pharmaceutical bodies in Manhattan were planning to take similar action and suggested that the Kings county men anticipate the New York county druggists in this move. While explaining the crying need for many of the scarcest of the botanical drug and chemical preparations in this country, Mr. Heimerzheim said that it had recently become impossible to...

Reviews

This pdf is definitely not easy to get started on studying but quite entertaining to read through. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. Once you begin to read the book, it is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding.
